The local community will be at the heart of the project which will be further shaped through a participatory co-design process in the Autumn.

Appointment of a partner to lead on Safer Streets by design

We are seeking to appoint a partner with specialist knowledge, experience and skills in gendered design, development and management of the built environment to create safe, inclusive, active streets and public spaces where all women and girls feel they are welcome and belong.

Your role, key objectives:

- (Project initiation) To work with GreaterSport and key project partners to inform the programme philosophy and structure, ensuring it is shaped and underpinned from the start by a strong evidence-led approach, building on existing insight and research around VAWG, street harassment and gendered perspectives on urban design, planning and management.
- (Project delivery) To provide expert advice to the project team to support impactful delivery in the local area, taking a place-based approach to implementation. Using your knowledge and skills to help operationalise the approach, supporting the translation of theory into practice across the different project streams, to include contributing to accessible tools, training and best practice.
- (Project learning and evaluation) To help capture, codify, curate and share key learning. To include commitment to supporting a test and learn approach, in the design and delivery of the project, as an active listener, observer, adviser and critical friend in the process, as part of an on-going dialogue with local people, to ensure the project is rooted in the reality of people's experiences and aspirations.

Key outputs to be agreed together as part of an initial project initiation and kick-off meeting to ensure clarity on scope, key milestones and contracting, drawing on your experience and our collective wisdom as a partnership.
